Competition Chairman's Greeting Japan Orienteering Association Chairman Tetsuro Yamanishi

In the calm sunshine, the buds of the vegetation begin to swell. At the beginning of spring, the 15th All Japan Trail Orienteering Championships will be greeted with participants at the nature-rich Tokyo Metropolitan Nogawa Park. We hope that you will be able to fully enjoy the air and greenery of the Kokubunji Cliff Line, called "Hake", drawn on Shohei Ooka's "Mrs. Musashino" and the rich water that springs from it. Trail orienteering was started as one type of orienteering in the 1990s with the idea that even people with disabilities can be orienteer. However, today, not only people with disabilities, but also healthy people have been competing with the same course together and have become the pioneers of unified sports that enjoy competing for the accuracy of map reading. Competing on courses created using natural terrain and artificial features with polished skills, insight, and mental power that will not lose in any situation is the essence of everyone's sport. And the purpose of this competition is to convey to more people as a more human sports culture. We would like to thank and thank the local stakeholders and organizers for their cooperation and support in organizing this event. And I want to watch the birth of the first champion of the Reiwa era.

Greeting from the Event Director Chairman of Tokyo Orienteering Association Mitsumasa Sugimoto

Half a century ago, elementary school children went from hill on a bicycle trip 3 km to a river away down to collect tadpoles. Along the river, which had not been reveted at the time, the brook overflowing from the spring of the "Hake" gently flowed, and tadpoles swarmed and swarmed in the early spring to fill with a scoop of colander. Sometimes come across giant bullfrogs. Looking back now, that was how I met Nogawa. I was obsessed with picking tadpoles around the north side of Musashino Park. A long time has passed, the riverbank has been maintained, and two metropolitan parks, Musashino Park and Nogawa Park, have spread to the south, but the modest flow of Nogawa and the spring water are still not changing. It's never a pleasure than welcoming players to such an old and familiar land and competing on the courses that I have bothered myself. During the competition to reduce the nerves, the athletes watch the duck swarm in the Nogawa, stare at the squatting heron, or look at the clear stream of the spring water, and become slightly calm and face the competition again I hope you can. I sincerely hope that you will be able to deliver a satisfactory performance with accurate map reading, deep insight and decisive judgment.

Important Information

We have been examining whether or not to hold the competition in response to the outbreak of the new corona-virus in these days, but we will hold only Open-E, so we will reduce the size of the event to prevent the expansion of the new corona-virus infection. We are very sorry and we hope you understand this circumstances.
